“ I only just heard of Ashley's passing. I'm absolutely devastated. I was good friends with her in elementary school and we hung out when we were young. I considered her a great friend and someone I could connect with. Of course separation with schools had a huge impact on why we didnt stay connected. And social media wasnt huge back then. I am at a loss of words for her passing and I remember some fun and hilarious moments we had with eachother and with others. I loved spending time with her at her house and it was awesome knowing she had a birthday on Halloween. I remember we wrapped eachother up in toilet paper by her pool table. I dont remember why, just that we did. I slept over around her birthday and she made was worried I was going to sleep walk since I told her I had a tendency of doing it when I was extremely young and living in New Jersey. Anyway, Ashley I'm sorry we didn't stay connected I will cherish the memories I do have and will leave a few photos I have in my scrapbook on here. My condolences to her family. Love from your childhood friend Rebecca Hemingway
