“ I have very fond memories of Colin and the neighborly years we shared living at Holiday Condos. Every morning as I went out to work, I passed Colin's condo and he would say through his office window, "Good Morning Maple, I can hear you with your high-heels-clip - clopping along! He never missed a day! We shared some of our favorite stories. His were far more exciting and interesting than mine. I will treasure my visit to him and am grateful I was. able to see him and hear him reminisce. May your rest in peace my friend. Forever with my high-heels, Miss Maple
