“ *When Eric was a Manager at Peppertree Bay, we met his family on Sunday morning after church down by the beach. The night before we had a terrible tornado that did a tremendous amount of damage to many places on our beautiful Siesta Key beach....except at Peppertree. We were blessed and so fortunate that our Manager and workers had protected our beautiful Peppertree by securing all loose furniture, etc.
He was there with his family inspecting our property to make sure it was OK. Eric was a very gentle, kind man. We extend our deepest sympathy to his dear family.*

“ Eric spoke more life into both me, my parenting, and my marriage than any other man I know, even my own father. He was one of the most amazing and gentle men that I have ever had the opportunity to know. He had the gift of holding space for people and actually seeing them.

Eric and Cynthia came to our home in May for dinner and for days all my children could talk about was Mr. and Mrs. Shrock, but especially Mr. Shrock because he spent a lot of time playing with them while he was there.

My husband and I spent a lot of time with both Eric and Cynthia in parenting and marriage courses, sometimes staying late into the night just in fellowship with them. Those will be memories I will cherish for the rest of my life.

Eric was a storyteller and great listener all in one. He was a beloved child of God and he walked in the ways of Jesus. His walk was never one that made others feel he was overtly religious or made them feel condemned. He always made you feel comfortable and loved. I imagine that's how Jesus made people feel when they walked with him. Eric was truly an imager of Jesus Christ.

Eric had the Father's heart and shared it wholeheartedly with the world; and though his presence here on earth was briefer than expected, his legacy will continually make this world lighter and brighter.

“ One memory of Eric was when we were young and would visit, He would pop his leg off to get in our van. My eyes would pop.

“ We have such special memories of the Schrock family back in the Illinois days. We visited with Cynthia and Eric's Dad and Mom...so our memory is of a curly headed boy, Eric. Our hearts go out to the whole Schrock family as they adjust to life without Eric and Ella. God bless you with all you need in your grief.
