What a testimony Len gave with his life. We all face challenges in life and he was a light for Jesus. He not only endured but vanquished darkness leaving a path for his family to be with Jesus and him for eternity. Some super fishing memories for me too.

Sweet Len. Met him as a contractor, fixing a house we had bought. First thing I noticed, he had a button down shirt, gig line in tact. He shook my hand like he meant it. The day, will not tell, but someone messed up shall we say. He told them, we'll, it is notbour problem. Go get whatever tool you forgot, or else I will charge you. He was just an amazing man.
