“ Auntie, you were one amazing person. I have some of the most wonderful memories of you when we came to visit. I remember one day when we were in the car and you were showing us around, and accidently turned down a one way street the wrong way. Your sister, my mom said oh shit and you said you hated cursing. But the one word you hated the most was "pissed off" and that you preferred to use "highly urinated" instead. That has stuck with me for 40 years and I still say highly urinated to this day... And people always laugh when I tell that story of why I use it. Thank you for sharing family history with me and filling in the blanks of our family. I am grateful for you and could not ask for a better Auntie. Love you and will miss you and our talks.
