“ One favorite story that is an example of John’s ever readiness to be alert to other’s needs. He and Bob had invited Garry and me to a baseball game. By the time we purchased the hot dog and beer that you need for the full enjoyment of the game, the game had already started. Great seats a few rows up from home plate, the four of us we’re getting settled in when “wham!” A foul ball comes flying right toward our seats and directly toward my face. John’s hand shot out in front of my face to protect me from what would have surely been a broken nose. Thinking of you Debbie and all the family gathered today to be together to share your loss and beautiful memories of this gift of life who knew how to love others. Bless you and keep you in perfect peace. 🙏❤️

A parent couldn't hope for a better son. I've been proud and happy to be his dad for nearly 66 years. Not once in all tis time did he ever say or do anything that displeased me.
