“ Dear little brother , you will definitely leave a hole in my heart all the running around I did with you and taking you to the doctor to make sure you were somewhat good health and you always calling me to see if I could help you out some. I will miss you, but I know you're happier now and I don't have to worry about where your next meal would be and where you will be living you will be taken care of by the Lord in his mansion. ❤️☐

“ Kevin was my dad and one thing I never doubted was his love for us kids. Life wasn't the kindest to him and he had many demons he battled on a daily basis but he didnt project them onto others, he was the one I knew that when my world was dark and cold he could give me light and renew my spirit reminding me I am not this flesh I am not this world I am something more and to hold on an have hope. Love you dad
