“ There are words and feelings to describe the impact that another person has had on your life, but those two things cannot attempt to come close to being enough to do you justice Maurine Crosby for all you brought to mine. You and Oscar welcomed me into your lives, home and family and embraced me in kindness, faith, fun, understanding and above all else unconditional love. Being as close to your family as I was to my own taught me endless life lessons that I continue to practice today and instilled in my own children. The small, tight-knit community that truly served and functioned as a family that surrounded our daily lives from the church, the ranch, the work, and the play (from rodeo, clogging, baseball, to the swimming hole). I knew from the moment I met you all that you'd have a profound impact and be a guiding force in my life. Not to say it was all easy would be an understatement. But your grace shown bright through it all. Your red hair was a match to my mom, Penny Dallimore, in so many ways that you two could have been cut from the same cloth. You both had spunk, grit, tenacity, heart, soul, patience, sternness and enthusiasm to rear your children so that they had the best opportunities that were possible. The sky was the limit and God's loving embrace the goal. Thank you seems a small thing to say as well, and my heart hurts to know that you won't be a text away any more. Over the past few years, you and Lorelei Hawk gave me the encouragement and confidence to once again know my true self and open my heart again to find love, forgiveness, and feel the Lord's embrace once again take hold and lead the way. I'll always cherish that I got to be your daughter through Christ, the Holy Ghost, and God's everlasting love. Rest in peace knowing your job is done here on Earth until we meet again. Give Oscar a hug for me. Keep the Crosby family in your thoughts and prayers.
