“ I lived in the neighborhood behind his house. He was good friends with Jeff that lived behind him. We had a cook out with a mutual friend and that is how I met him. Great guy. Always smiling. I was going to fix his electrical issue in his kitchen. I just saw a little before he passed. Just found out that he had passed. Good man, good person and a great neighbor. RIP Roger.

“ Roger, You were a great guy. People liked you immediately. Erudite and well-informed, you could converse with ease on a variety of topics. You mixed well in settings ranging from casual to formal. You knew your way around the grill and the kitchen. You were a kind, considerate and helpful neighbor. You were loyal and trustworthy. As we say in the South, you were raised right! Very important: My dogs loved you! We miss you, Roger, see you there.
