“ Words can't explain what Taylor meant to me. I looked at him like a big brother all of my life, he always made time to hang out with me and show me cool car movies and videos. He was always the life of the party and always up to having fun. Love, Cousin Brandon

“ I knew Taylor and followed his journey for sometime. I found him to be a kind warm hearted young man who really did try to defeat his demons. There are folks who left my office with a piece of my heart and Taylor was one of them. He had a love of life, family and God.
